

Saving Orangutans From Deforestation

Hugo and Jack

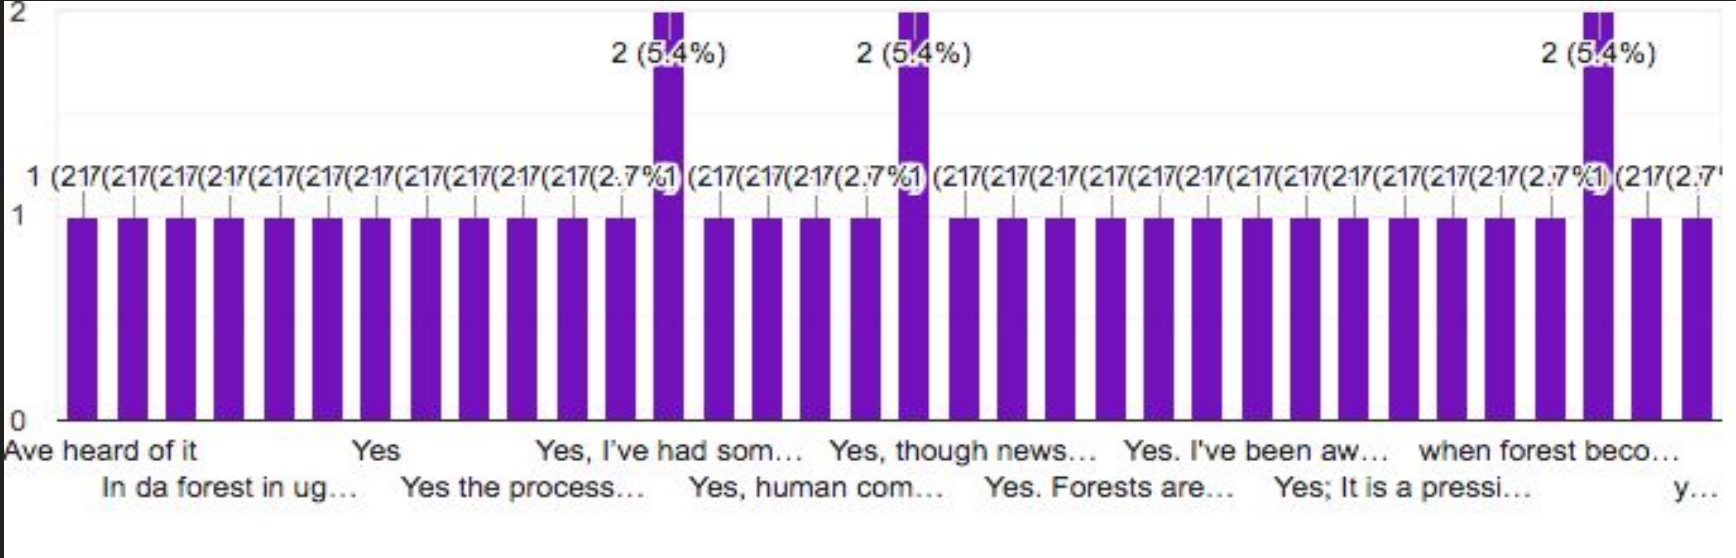

of Responses

We received 37 responses on our survey about deforestation and how it affects orangutans

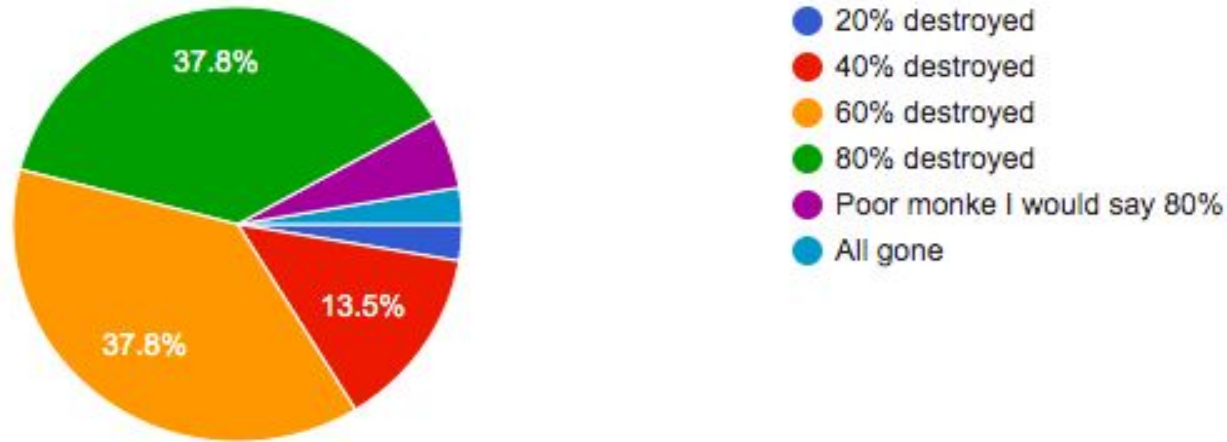

Deforestation

Almost everyone knew what deforestation was, but did not know a lot about it. They have clearly been introduced to the idea of it but have not been taught the dramatic effects of it.

Affects

Most people knew that orangutans were being affected by deforestation, but not to the extent it is actually happening. Less than half the people who responded knew that 80% of the natural habitat of orangutans has been destroyed due to deforestation.

Donations

18/37 people are willing to donate to this meaningful cause and they will be receiving emails from us shortly. If anyone still would like to donate please do not hesitate to reach out to either of us at our Calhoun email addresses.
